★ Gum Shields

» Gum shield clear, single

Teeth and jaw protection is absolutely essential in boxing! This upper gum shield is elastic enough to absorb direct punches and rigid enough to divert the occurring energy over an area as large as possible.

» Gum shield clear, double

The classic gum shield for upper and lower teeth protection. The deflection area is even bigger and the mouth-interior is almost completely fixed.

» Gum Shield MG 3 one size

The gum shield MG 3 for tournaments is made of EVA material (Ethylene-Vinyl-Acetate) and is silicone or Latex free. The ideal properties of the material with regard to formability, temperature and degree of firmness are shown to best advantage during training or in competitions. The 3-layer protection with shock-absorbing spiral provides maximum protection against impact injuries.

» Gum shield pouring

The protection of teeth and jaw is very important in boxing. The gum shield pouring adapts itself perfectly to your individual tooth placement and is therefore suitable for all age levels. Firstly stir a compound according to the instructions included, then pour into the gum shield. Press the gum shield onto the upper teeth row until a good fit is achieved. The compound then adapts perfectly to the teeth and provides an optimal protection during training. Once the gum shield has been poured it can now be reused again and again.
